

---

The Admissions Committee reviews all applications and will place an applicant on the waitlist when they cannot extend an offer of admission at the time of review but remain interested in the applicant's file and materials.